INTRODUCTORY ACTIVITY

Jade is in Secondary V and thinks she's too young to start investing. She may not be alone. Here's a real-life example to help you answer this question: How old should you be to start investing?

Warren Buffett

Born in 1930, Warren Buffett is considered by many to be the greatest investor of all time. He delivered newspapers as a young boy and did odd jobs to save money. He bought his first shares while he was still in school. He watched them drop and quickly sold them as soon as they went up, earning a small profit. He had just made his first trading mistake. The price of the shares later jumped 500\%! What's important is that Warren Buffett learned from his mistake. He read several books about investing and stopped worrying when the price of the shares he bought fluctuated.

When he was around 15 years old, he invested $1,200 of his savings in 40 acres of land rented to farmers. At age 27, he bought his first house. You may think there's nothing surprising about buying a house at that age but he had enough money to buy four, and to pay cash for them all! In 1961, at age 31, he was a millionaire. By the time he was 37, he had over $10 million and two years later he had over $25 million. In 2014, he was worth over $$ 70$ billion.
